A message from the Leadership Team:

Today in Messy Church, the children and young people are learning about David and Goliath (with the help of some dinosaurs, of course). The story of David and Goliath is one of the most popular and it is also a lesson about faith, courage and overcoming the impossible.

Faith let David look at Goliath (and our children look at dinosaurs) from a different perspective. When things are in the proper perspective, God's perspective, then the fight is more effective.

Courage comes when we learn that only God's opinion matters.

Our unique skills, gifts and talents (mine include cutting and sticking, essential for Messy Church) are there ready; they are God given and miracles can happen when they are used.

The story of David and Goliath is a great reminder that it doesn't matter about the outside things, it is the things on the inside (our attitudes, our thoughts, our dreams) that are much more important. Our ROC Conversation this week will have demonstrated some great examples of 'inside things' and these will become clear over the coming days and weeks. Will Messy Church also overcome the impossible? Will the story and the meaning behind it be discovered by our children and young people in craft activities, songs and praise? Join us at 11:30 to find out!
